

Ken Black

Founding Director, The Inclusion Club (www.theinclusionclub.com)

Project Coordinator (Inclusion), University of Worcester

Background

Ken has worked as a practitioner in the area of inclusive physical activity and disability sport for 35 years. This has included work in special education, disability sport (development and coaching), community disability sports development (for a large city council sports development team) and as the inclusive sport officer for a national youth sport agency in the UK.

He has also been a sports consultant with the Australian Sports Commission and with a disability sport research and development centre at Loughborough University.

Ken has worked independently as an advisor and consultant since 2008. He is a visiting lecturer at a number of UK universities and has recently taken up a role as an inclusion adviser at the University of Worcester.

He has worked extensively overseas on inclusive physical activity and disability sports projects, most recently in Bangladesh, Ethiopia, Peru and Malaysia.
